AFTER A BREATHER OF a week's duration, we should be all-fired up or re-charged. Or something.

Unfortunately we find that is not the case.

A week's vacation, one might say, has sort of a neutralizing effect.

It is long enough to start to unwind. But it is too short to have a lasting effect.

On the other hand, we have long been blessed with the ability to relax easily without working at it too strenuously.

So we managed to take full advantage of our week off.

Our time was spent in the Tahoe area where by adherence to strict fiscal ground rules laid down by our Dorothy, we stayed within our budget.

Roughly translated, that means, for the benefit of those who are unfamiliar with the goings on across the border, that we only lost what our Dorothy allowed us to have in our pockets.

WEATHERWISE THE TAhoe area was great.

After the first few days, that is.

But we really did not mind the snow that fell those first few days.

It made the countryside look beautiful.

We hadn't intended to play golf those first two days anyway.

After the snowstorm, which was probably winter's last gasp, the weather turned delightfully springy or early-summery.

It was perfect on the golf course.

But you know something, we noted that the weather seemed to make no difference to the people pulling the handles or throwing the dice.

And we found that we could lose just as easily when it was snowing as we could when the sun was shining.

The same difference.

SOME TIME AGO, ED Northup, who lives in Hamilton Downs, brought in a clipping from the "Paradise Post", a weekly newspaper in Paradise (Butte County).

Ed thought the sentiment expressed in "A Thought to Remember", this folksy ad for a mortuary in the town of Paradise, was worth repeating:

"How to combat crime, particularly juvenile crime, continues to be a puzzling topic all over the country. Perhaps it is time to take an altogether different approach; to attack the problem before it starts.

"Everyone agrees, for example, school children are impressionable. In the same manner that school children are taken to art museums, zoos, etc., perhaps it would help to periodically take classes of children on guided tours through county jails. State and Federal penitentiaries. Let them see first hand how the liberty and freedom of convicts are restricted. Let the talented dramatists explain the cost of crime, NOT to society, but to the criminal; how his cost can be life-long. Let it be emotionally told how ex-cons are branded. Jobs are scarce, hard to find for them even in good times. Almost all professions are denied them; licenses to perform in many skills and trades are refused them.

"Let it be told the way it is. Harshly. After all, if youngsters of age 18 are considered smart enough to vote, surely they should be smart enough at that or an earlier age to want to stay out of jail--for their own good."

Ed felt that there was a great deal of merit in that philosophy.

And we do, too.

TOTAL EXCEEDS $92 MILLION

Retail sales in Campbell in 1972 increase by 35% over previous year

Taxable retail sales in Campbell for 1972 increased by a fantastic 35% over the previous year, according to the annual report of the State Board of Equalization.

Campbell's sales went from $68.2 million in 1971 to $92.3 million in 1972 for a $24 million gain!

Statewide the increase was 14.6%, the largest gain since 1959.

Although the extension of sales tax to gasoline on July 1, 1972, played a major role in the record-setting year, the service station category in Campbell only accounted for a $3.8 million of the $24 million overall increase.

The 42 service stations in 1971 listed $998,000 in taxable sales in 1971, whereas in 1972, 45 stations showed $4.8 million in taxable sales.

LOS GATOS

In 1972 Campbell left Los Gatos far behind in taxable sales. Campbell in 1971 was only ahead of Los Gatos by $4.4 million ($68.2 million to $63.8 million). But in 1972 it was a different story.

Campbell ended 1972 ahead of Los Gatos in taxable sales by $17.1 million.

BIG INCREASE

The biggest increase in taxable sales in Campbell came in the home furnishing category where a $4.9 million hike was recorded. In 1972 there were 30 home furnishing outlets and 27 in 1971.

Eating establishments gained $3.5 million and apparel stores showed a $1.8 million jump. There were 62 eating places reporting in 1972, four more than in the previous year and nine more apparel stores (23 compared to 14)

There was one more drug store (10) reporting in 1972 and a $1.4 million gain in sales was listed ($1.2 million compared to $2.7 million).

There were 26 food stores reporting in 1972 as compared to 21 in 1971 and the stores showed a gain of $519,000 in taxable sales ($6.2 million compared to $6.7 million).

The 12 liquor stores in 1972 (one more than in 1971) reported $2.5 million in taxable sales, a gain of $229,000 over the previous year.

Although the category "building materials", long one of the mainstays on the local scene, continued to be high on the list of taxable sales reporting $10.1 million in 1972, only a gain of $1,000 was registered over the previous year.

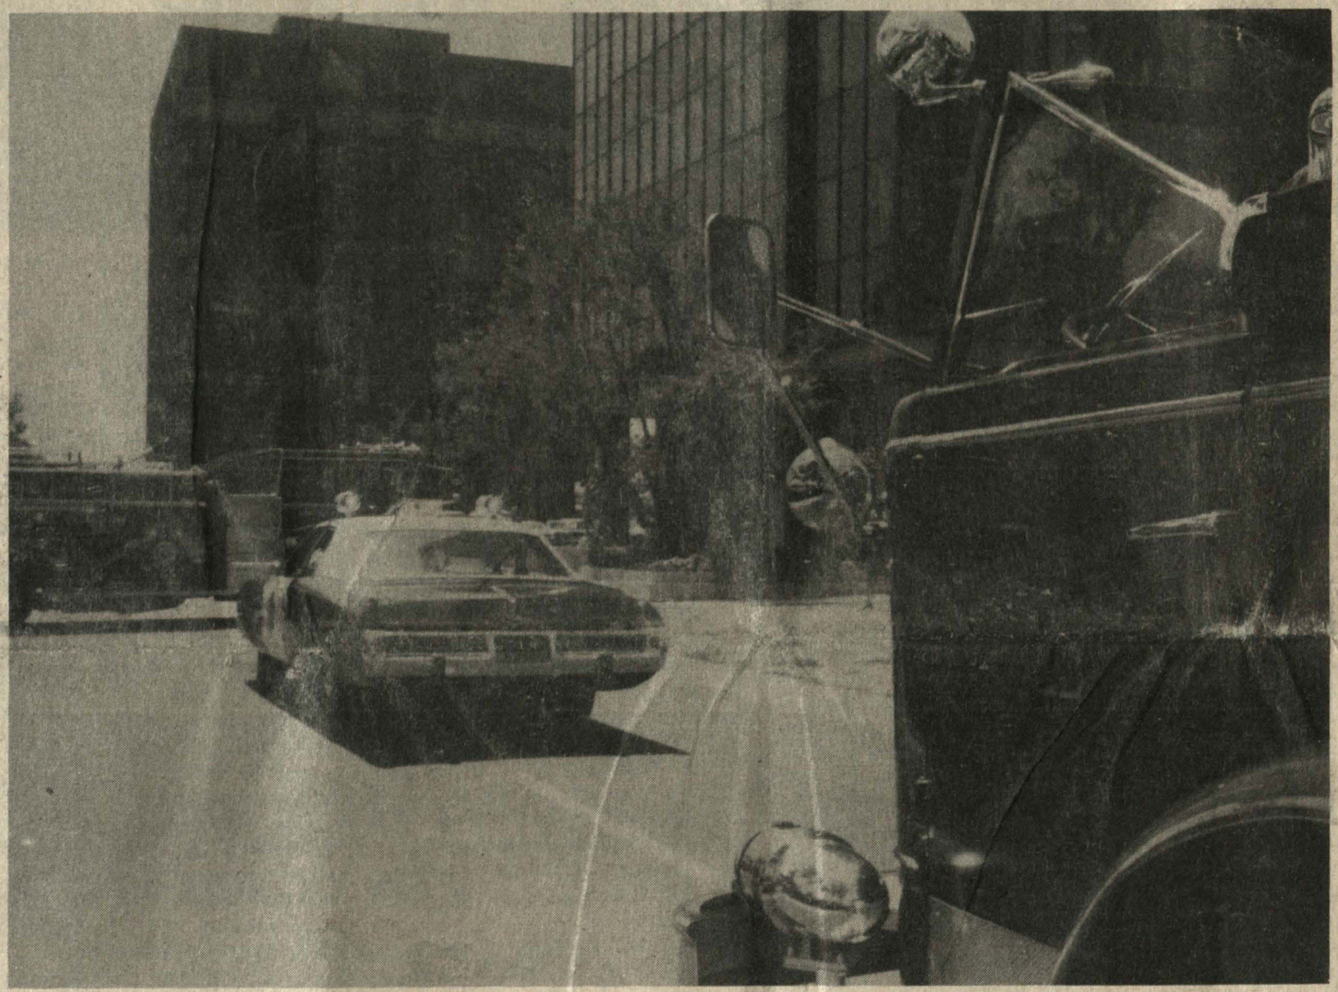
The 11 general merchandise stores reporting in Campbell in 1972 (there were nine the previous year) did $2.8 million in taxable sales, a gain of $81,000 over the previous year.

CITIES INCREASE

Of the 15 cities in the county, Milpitas and Campbell registered the greatest gain percentagewise for 1972. Milpitas went from $31.9 million in 1971 to $46.7 million in 1972.

BREAKDOWN

The breakdown of taxable sales of the cities for 1972 (the 1971 figures in parenthesis): San Jose $1.8 billion ($917 million); Santa Clara, $314 million ($265 million); Palo Alto, $291 million ($226 million); Sunnyvale, $226 million ($187 million); Mountain View, $214 million ($188 million); CAMPBELL, $92.3 million ($68.2 million); Cupertino, $77.8 million ($63.9 million); Los Gatos, $75.1 million ($63.8 million); Los Altos, $47.3 million ($41 million); Milpitas, $46.7 million ($31.9 million); Gilroy, $41.1 million ($34.4 million); Saratoga, $18.3 million ($13.7 million); Morgan Hill, $16.9 million ($13.5 million); Los Altos Hills, $1.5 million ($1.1 million); Monte Sereno, $55,000 ($66,000).



QUICK ACTION---When a fire alarm was sounded on the 17th floor of "The Towers" in the PruneYard last Friday afternoon, San Jose fire department units, under the mutual aid pact, responded, along with the Campbell fire units, within a few minutes. Campbell's engine companies "23" and "24" and the rescue unit "25" responded while from San Jose came ladder truck "10," light unit "10," pumper truck "9" and hose wagon "6". Campbell police also were on hand to assist in traffic control. The alarm turned out to be false.

MAJOR CITY PROJECTS

Council to deal in 'big money' Tuesday

Campbell city councilmen will be dealing with "big money" next Tuesday, May 22, when the contracts for city projects totalling more than $1 million are scheduled to be awarded.

And, in addition, the Council is scheduled to review the final plans and specifications for the new library building estimated to exceed $400,000.

The Council will meet next Tuesday instead of the regular meeting of May 28 which is a holiday (Memorial Day).

Bids for the Phase I development of Rincon Park (including play structures, landscaping and turfing) were opened this week. The project is estimated to cost $185,000.

The Council next Tuesday is also expected to approve the plans and specifications for the Hamilton Avenue widening project (from Highway 17 to Winchester) and call for bids.

The cost for the complete project, including the acquisition of rights of way is expected to exceed $700,000.

Final action on Local Improvement District No. 17 (Dell Avenue industrial park) is also scheduled to be taken next Tuesday.

Bids for this project were opened in April. Low bid was $139,228.

The Council, next Tuesday, is also expected to continue with the discussion on the disposition of the former city engineering building at Grant and Third streets. The public works department is now located in the engineering wing of the city hall.

The Campbell JayCees, in a letter to City Manager Bob Stephens from Mike Kennedy, president, has suggested that the building be converted into a meeting place for community organizations that would lease it from the city for $1 per year.

Wally Byron, city building official, has estimated that it will cost $56,584 to bring the building up to code.

Bill Hedley, architect for the library building, is scheduled to present the final plans and specifications for that structure next Tuesday. If the Council approves the plans, they will be forwarded to the county and state.

BROWN TO BE SPEAKER

JayCees to hold annual award dinner on Friday

Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown, Jr., currently rated as one of the leading candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1974, will be the guest speaker at the sixth annual Distinguished Service Award banquet sponsored by the Campbell JayCees this Friday, May 18.

The banquet honoring the young man of the year, will be held at Zorba's at 7:30 p.m. after the social hour slated for 6:30 p.m.

The distinguished service award is given each year to a young man between the ages of 18 and 35 who lives or works in Campbell. Nominations are solicited from organizations and individuals and the selection is made by a committee of community leaders.

Past winners include, Len Edholm, Chamber of Commerce manager; Jack Christian, Campbell Fire Department; Carl Kuhn, former city administrative assistant, now living in Sacramento; Dale Scott, former planning commission chairman, now living in southern California; and Bob Dalzell, PG&E employee now residing in Santa Maria.

The Distinquished Service Award (DSA) is part of a national program by the JayCees to honor young men and the work they do for their community. Each year all of the local winners are reviewed and 10 outstanding young men are named from all across the

CAMPBELL UNION (elementary) SCHOOL DISTRICT

Trustees authorize 7% increase in salaries

At a cost of more than $700,000 to the district, all employees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District will receive a 7% increase in their salary schedules, effective from May 1 to June 30, 1974, as a result of the board of trustees' action on May 10.

District personnel estimate that the increase for the teachers will cost $601,380. The cost of the hike in pay for classified employees is estimated at $91,000 and for administration personnel $62,575.

The salary increase package, which came after prolonged "meet and confer" sessions between representatives of district employee groups and administration, was described as a "cost of living adjustment to make up for lost purchasing power due to inflation in 1972-73.

District officials maintain that the increases will not have any effect on the district tax rate because of recent state legislation (SB-90) and other factors.

Superintendent Jim D'Avis explained that the teachers will be paid for the increases for May and June on the June 30 warrants, at the end of the current fiscal year. The increase extends through the end of the next fiscal year, June 30, 1974.

As part of the agreement, the teachers agreed to relinquish their district-paid income protection plan, amounting to approximately $37,800. It was also understood that an analysis of the salary expenditure will take place next May. If there is a surplus of more than $10,000, the surplus is to be allocated to the salary reserve and a year-end bonus will be provided.

Teacher spokesmen disagreed with the 7% salary increase that was authorized for administrative personnel, claiming that there was too wide a gap between the salaries of teachers and that of administrators.

Classified personnel (secretaries, custodians, etc.) will receive a year-end bonus equivalent to a 7% increase above their monthly salary for the months of May and June this year in one lump sum. The increase will be projected throughout the next fiscal year.

Subject to some modifications, it is estimated that it will be necessary to budget $6.5 million for teachers' salaries for the 1973-74 fiscal year and $1.2 million for classified personnel.

Salary schedules for administrative personnel must still be developed but it is estimated that $960,830 must be budgeted in the next fiscal year.

Students stage sit-in at Rolling Hills School

Tensions have now eased at Rolling Hills School, Campbell Union (elementary) School District junior high, according to Robert Turk, school principal. Student sit-ins were staged on the school grounds last week.

According to Turk, some students were unhappy over the cancellation of International Fair Day, now an international cultural activity, but originally established in 1971 as a Mexican cultural event. It was planned for later in May.

The event was cancelled on April 25, he said, because he felt the ambitious day-long program could not be properly organized and staffed this year. (One of the local teacher association guidelines during the recent dispute with the school board was that teachers decline to take part in extra school functions. Reports indicated that Rolling Hills teachers had decided to comply with this guideline.)

Student dissatisfaction over the cancellation reached a peak last Wednesday, when over 150 students waged a sit-in on the lawns in front of the school, beginning during the noon break, Turk said. (Other sources set the total number of students at close to 300.)

At a meeting called by Turk for parents of children who left the school grounds after the student demonstration, several parents disagreed with the principal over the handling of the incident.

Monday afternoon the school was cleared for a half hour after a bomb threat was received by the school. No bomb was found. The caller, was reported to be an adult male.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Senior-citizen complex goes before Commission

Plans for 84 single-bedroom apartments for senior citizens to be located south of Shelley Avenue between Bascom and White Oaks Road, will be up for approval at the Planning Commission meeting next Monday, May 21.

The proposed two-story apartment complex is on three acres of Dubcich property and entry will be by a cul-de-sac from Bascom Ave.

Jack Knighton is the applicant for the project and it will be administered by the County Housing Authority. At a recent City Council meeting, John Burns, county housing director, explained details of the project to the councilmen.

Because the occupants of the complex will be senior citizens, the applicant has requested a reduction in parking spaces from that specified in the code. Staff personnel point out that the code requires 126 units with 84 covered and the applicant is asking for 54 with 42 covered.

Other items on the Planning Commission agenda next Monday include: plans for an industrial building at 533 Union Ave. submitted by Luis Pina for Carr Travis; plans for a warehouse at 1085 Florence Way submitted by Jack Craig; and plans for an automobile repair building at 410 McGlincey Lane submitted by R. Lindvig.

The application of J. Font for the conversion of a residence into a nursery school at 38 Fourth St., is also on the agenda. A language-handicap school for pre-school youngsters is planned at that location.

Bell Savings is requesting approval of a free-standing pole sign and other building signs at 1470 W. Campbell Ave. and Eastfield Children's Center is requesting permission to continue using a portable classroom.

Ira Kirkorian is requesting a zone change from R-3-S to P-D on property located at 1545 and 1581 Bucknall Rd.

The Planning Commission next Monday also will continue with the public hearing on amendments to the zoning map and land use element, to correspond with the general plan required by state law.

Editorial

City goals

Under consideration by the steering committee of the Citizens Advisory Goals Committee are the recommendations that have been submitted by the various sub-committees in the three "areas of concern".

It will be from these recommendations that the steering committee will draft its report to the City Council and, conceivably, these same recommendations could be the guideline for future city programs.

Obviously some of the recommendations that have been submitted by the various sub-committees will not be part of the final draft that will be presented to the city Council.

Some will be eliminated because they may not be practical at this time while others may be excluded from the final report because of differences of opinions as to their worth.

We are well aware that there will not be unanimity as to what should be the goals of the City of Campbell.

And there also will be divided opinions as to what should be the priorities for the goals that are decided upon.

Nevertheless, we feel that the Citizens Advisory Goals Committee, with more than 70 citizens taking part in the various discussions and studies during these past few months, has demonstrated once again that the citizens of this community ARE interested in their city government and its objectives.

The outstanding advantage of the goals committee has been the opportunity for the citizens to have a sounding board that will reveal the kind of a community that is desired.

The involvement by the citizens and their input during these last few months will prove of invaluable assistance to the city administration.

We sincerely hope that the City Council will adopt and implement those selected programs that the steering committee will present.

However, it must be recognized that there is no "mandate" that can force the City Council to follow the recommendations.

But regardless of what happens in the final analysis, we sincerely believe that the Citizens Advisory Goals Committee has served a useful purpose.

YES program

One of the most commendable projects undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce is the sponsorship of the Youth Employment Service.

The YES program is designed to help young people find jobs during the summer. Debbie Havens, a graduating senior at Campbell High this year, is the director of this year's program.

Jim Bower, of Pacific Telephone, and a director of the Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of the program.

The program is now in its second week and already has more than 250 students listed.

Unfortunately the supply far exceeds the demand and the YES program has never been able to place all the young people who have sought assistance.

Business firms or individuals are urged to contact the YES office (378-1666) between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily.

If a person can employ a student for one day or one week, contact Debbie at 378-1666.

Based on past experience, there will be many more young people listed with the YES office than there will be jobs available. The program has been in operation since 1969 when a record high of 158 youths were hired through the YES office.

Cooperation of the residents, as well as the business community is needed, if the Youth Employment Service is to be successful.

Washing and waxing cars, trimming trees and hedges, painting inside and out, washing windows, weeding, babysitting, pet care, house cleaning, ironing, moving furniture, cleaning garages, washing walls, hauling trash, cleaning rugs, catering, raking, building and repairing fences and mowing lawns are the types of jobs that residents may list.

Of course, it would be ideal if the jobs that were offered were of a higher plane, so to speak. But we must recognize that such jobs will be few and far between.

On the other hand, many local business firms that have in the past taken advantage of the "clearing house" procedure that YES offers, i.e., comparing the qualifications of the young people who have applied for the job openings, have been agreeably surprised..

Many of the young people who were placed in these temporary assignments have continued with the firms on a part-time basis while attending college.

We sincerely urge you to support the Youth Employment Service and, if you have a job or know of one that can be filled by a young person, call YES at 378-1666 and tell Debbie about it.

A BROCHURE ANnouncing the fifth annual Chamber of Commerce invitational golf tournament scheduled for Wednesday, June 6, lists Ed Fabbri, of the Bank of America, and president of the CofC, and Bob Bullard, CPA, a former CofC prexy, as "accountability experts" for the classic.

We intend to check with Joe Cuffaro, of Winchester Paint, tournament chairman and Councilman Rusty Hammer, tourney vice-chairman, as just what are the duties of "accountability experts".

Are they the ones who check the scorecards to see how the sandbaggers have done?

The announcement reveals that there will be no speeches, but plenty of prizes, including one for the worst score and one also for the most strokes per hole.

Others on the committee include Myron Alexander, realtor and planning commissioners, and Vice-Mayor Norm Paul, who are listed as refreshment servers.

The Rev. Ben Gould is listed as chaplain for the tournament.

"Accountability experts" and a "chaplain" for a golf tournament?

They just may have a point there.

OBVIOUSLY THERE ARE times when this column does not offer any stimulating information.

And the readers become bored with it.

Shucks, one can't be a winner every time.

In fact there have been times when it probably would have been better, if the column had not appeared at all.

We concede that is possible. There have been some pretty mediocre productions.

However, our ego was given a big boost recently by one of the subscribers to this paper who was missed one week by her carrier.

In informing the office that she had not received her paper that week, she added that she was an avid reader of this column and thought we were humble and the column was great and she didn't want to miss even one issue.

A paper was rushed to her immediately.

(The VIP in our office at that time, said he would wait until we got back.)

WHENEVER WE SINGLE out one area in this community that has a horrendous traffic problem, invariably we hear from people who claim that other sectors in town are in worse shape.

Most people, however, who have any knowledge of the situation on E. Campbell Ave. between Bascom and Leigh, concede that a major traffic problem does exist there, which in most cases, tops their own particular area.

WE THINK THE CITY Council and the public works department staff are on the right track now in attempting to devise a plan that "diverts" traffic from all the residential streets in the general area.

We feel very strongly that commuters should use the multi-lane thoroughfares that have been constructed at a cost of millions for them rather than use basic residential streets.

Ironically, according to the traffic study recently made, the Campbell-Leigh Ave. route is NOT the shortest (distance or timewise) through town.

We are in sympathy with the residents who live on E. Campbell Ave. between Bascom and Leigh.

We don't think they deserve the headaches that have been created by the traffic problems.

We think the problem can be alleviated to a great extent by the "diversion" method without working a hardship on the other streets in the area.

And let the record show that we reside on one of those "other streets".

A note to the City Council recently from Mrs. Charlotte Hoque, emphasized the frustration of residents on E. Campbell Ave.;

In her note, Mrs. Hoque wrote..."...We feel spacing of traffic is needed--so that we can back out of our driveway between 7 a.m. and 7:45 a.m. without jeapardizing our vehicles. (I have counted as many as 48 autos passing before I could back out.)"

That could get pretty tiresome.

And mighty frustrating.

College festival features musical 'Vibrations' and famed guitarist

Two musical events will be featured during the third week of West Valley College's ninth annual fine arts festival.

The new religious-rock musical, "Vibrations", will be presented May 19 at 8 p.m. Set in Pennsylvania Dutch country in the 1960's the musical is the story of a commune that settles among devout, old order Amish farmers. The story reveals the common aspirations that draw the two cultures together, and the amusing, but ultimately tragic, conflicts that tear them apart.

Originally presented last June in a workshop production by San Jose Music Theatre, "Vibrations" has played to enthusiastic, capacity crowds at additional showings since. The production features the jazz-rock band, "Flash".

Tickets are $2 general admission and $1 for students.

On Tuesday, May 22, at 8 p.m. Mexican guitarist Selvio Carrizosa will present a program of Mexican composers and works by J.S. Bach, Francisco Tarrega, Villa Lobos and Francisco Poulenc.

Born in Mexico in 1934, Carrizosa is currently professor of the guitar at the International University Center of Coyoacan. He has concertized in 14 Mexican cities and in eight states in the United States. Tickets are required.

Both events will be staged in the Campbell campus auditorium, corner of Winchester Blvd. and Campbell Ave.

Tickets for each event are obtainable in Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26. Further information on these events, or any events slated for the festival, may be obtained by calling that office at 379-1733, ext. 58.

Orchard City Grange 333 met Tuesday, May 8, with Master James M. Arnold officiating.

A potluck dinner preceded the entertainment at 7:30 p.m. Lecturer Charles Carter and Ellen Arnold presented the Campbell Assembly for Girls who exemplified a Mother's Day Degree. This was very beautiful and enjoyed by all present.

Committee on Women's Activities Dist. Chairman of Dist. 5 Florence Sheffer announced the next meeting will be held at 10 a.m. May 21 (Monday) at the Orchard City Grange Hall, 109 N. First St. Members please remember to bring any coupons to this meeting.

Overseer Edwin Terrell has charge of a bus trip to the Ice Follies, Saturday, May 26. Be at the Grange Hall by 3:30 p.m. The bus leaves at 3:45 p.m. Tickets are $7 for the trip and show and will be back by 9 p.m. Good seats have been spoken for by Overseer Terrell.

Due to the high cost of ham and other items, members voted to charge $1.50 for the Orchard City Grange Sunday breakfasts, and 75 cents for children under 12 years.

Orchard City Grange will serve Sunday breakfast May 27 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Grange Hall, 109 N. First St., Campbell. Donation $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12 years. Open to be public.

Helen Bohn served as chairman for the potluck dinner.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of the Doxology.

Passing the Buc

by Sandy Mann

"DON'T BLAME ME", OR BOY, DID THE EDITOR BLOW IT!

I would like to make a statement concerning last week's PASSING THE BUC article.

Brother, am I ever embarrassed! Last week's article, apparently written by me, WAS A MISTAKE! I mean, I've heard of helpful suggestions, and I've had more than one ruthless editing job, but writing an entire column for me is going a bit too far!

Last week it was Lynn Hermle's turn to sweat it out at the typewriter, and I must say she did a more than adequate job. But somehow or other HER column ended up with MY byline, which understandably upset us both. So she got cheated out of her rightful recognition, although that was nothing compared to what I had to go through.

In case you didn't happen to catch last week's installment, as a special feature at the conclusion of her regular article, was the awarding of a Certified Cynic Award, in the category of Specialized Sarcasm, to none other than the great one herself.

That isn't so bad, but it's pretty embarrassing having to spend a whole week explaining why I spent the last half of my article talking about myself. Anyway, everyone knows that I'm my own biggest fan.

What's worse, they said that it was the best piece of journalism I'd ever written, and the truest. Hmmmph. Everybody's a critic.

So for all of you He-Who-Laughs-Last-Laughs-Best crums out there, I hope you're enjoying yourselves, you rats...

"BRIGADOON" MELTS THE CYNIC'S PLASTIC HEART

A musical is a musical is a musical. Right? Well, at least that's what I thought until I went to see Campbell's production of Lerner and Loewe's "Brigadoon". I even went with the idea that I'd be wasting my time, but I wouldn't trade that evening for anything.

To start with, that is one hell of a great musical. Secondly, on the stage were the strongest, sweetest and most professional sounding voices that Campbell has had in at least five years. It was a far cry from "Oklahoma!" three years ago, when Lorrie Bryant and Tom Gabbard had the leads as shy, frightened sophomores. This time they were strong, sure, and beautiful.

Pat Powers stole the show with a hilarious portrayal of the sarcastic drunk as Jeff Douglas; Rich Smith of Fantasma fame, made his part of the carefree bridegroom come alive as Charlie Dalrymple and "very mature" Mark Nichols was wonderfully convincing as the wise, kind old Mr. Lundie.

I went to see the show on Friday night, and so I got the pleasure of watching Lynn Eldridge play the part she does best--Meg Brockle, a friendly nymphomaniac. Good kid, that Meg. My kind of style.

And, of course, I'm just furious with Tom and Lorrie, who played their parts of Tommy Albright and Fiona MacLaren so well, that I spent the last 15 minutes of the play under my seat, so that nobody would see how bad my eyes were "watering" and ruin my reputation as the unmovable rock. All I can really say about them is I hope someday they will receive the recognition that they deserve.

So there it is. I can't deny it. I liked the whole darn thing, slobbering sentimentality and all. So I guess that means I lose my Certified Cynic award, because I didn't cut anything down, not even the string section of the orchestra (which took a lot of self-restraint). But then again, as I read this over, maybe I didn't lose it after all.

At any rate, between the singing, the story and the scenery, Campbell's production of Brigadoon deserved every second of the three standing ovations they received. Good work, chaps, good work.

WALKING THE PLANK

(I eat sweets,
I don't write it)

This statement is in reply to Lynn's not-too-subtle comment she made last week about my sarcasm. She seemed to imply that the groups I "insulted" were taking my comments much more seriously than I ever meant them or wanted them to be taken.

But do these guys really care that much about what I kiddingly say about them in a dinky little column in a dinky little city newspaper? (No offense, Ed.)

In a way this is quite flattering to think that what I say has such earthshaking importance to them, but I also find it rather ludicrous that someone (Lynn included) could take the insults of a group who I am using to prove a bigger point as a personal hatred to each member individually.

It's just that I don't believe in playing the stupid, hypocritical game of gushing to anybody who wants to listen that everything and everybody at our school is peachy and wonderful and the-greatest-bunch - of - guys - in - the - whole-world, and who cares if they're last place. I know I am very critical of many things, but I call them like I see them, and I take my toll of insults and enemies myself. But I can't and won't play cutesy.

However, I mean no one any real or imagined harm, although I would like to change some of the things that are inane and ridiculous and stupid. But often it seems like nobody listens. And so, if someone reacts to what I have said, if only in anger, at least I know they are aware of what I was trying to say.

But again, there is such a thing as going too far, and if I have really and truly hurt somebody, as my colleague suggests, I'm sorry.

Nevertheless, I beg to remain (but with dignity) the writer that I am.

BEEF PLUS BRAND ... NEW AT SAFEWAY!

BEEF PATTY MIX...A BLEND OF BEEF AND TEXTURED VEGETABLE PROTEIN...

BEEF PLUS is a wonderful new Patty Mix now being offered in Safeway Meat Departments. It's a blend of about ¾ Safeway ground beef and about ¼ hydrated textured vegetable protein which is delicious, nutritious and lower in cost than ground beef. It is high in protein, closely matching ground beef in this important characteristic. Many people who have tried BEEF PLUS say that it tastes better than ground beef. The vegetable protein in BEEF PLUS absorbs and holds much of the meat flavor and many of the juices which are usually cooked out of ground beef.

BEEF PLUS can be used just like ground beef . . . In 'burgers, meat loaf, spaghetti sauce . . . in every ground beef dish, plain or fancy. We invite you to try BEEF PLUS with our money-back guarantee of satisfaction.

BEEF PLUS can save you money in two ways . . . It costs less per pound than ground beef. It holds meat juices better in cooking and so makes plumper patties, hamburgers, and Salisbury steaks.

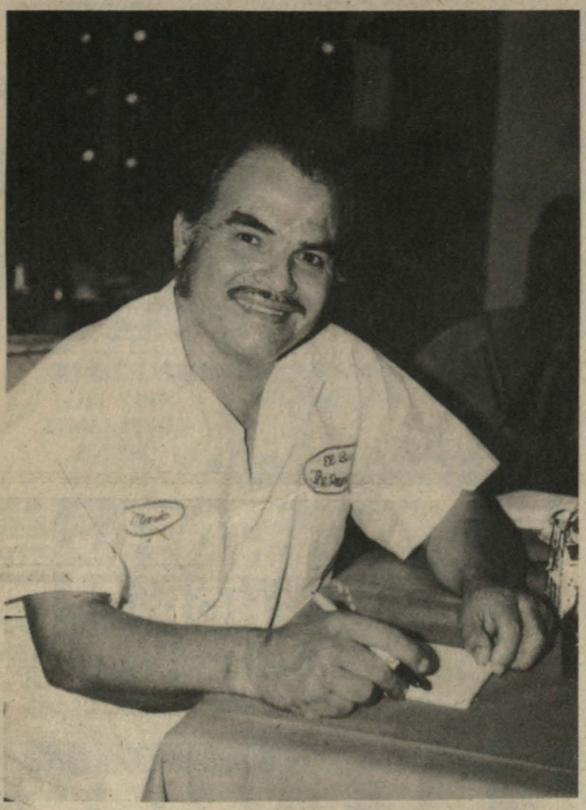
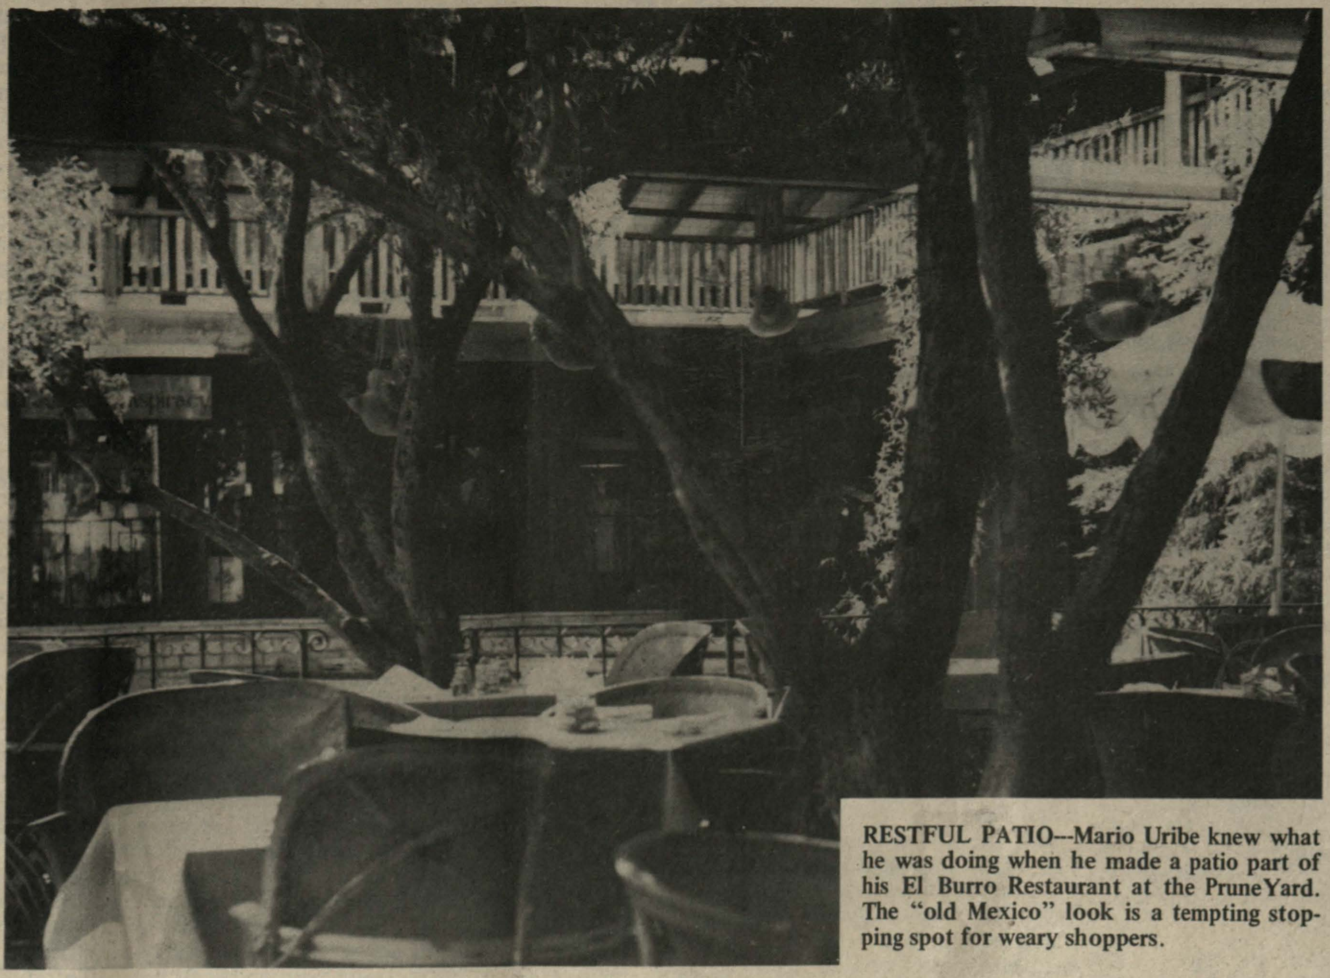
"My life is in the kitchen" says Mario



GROCERY LIST---Mario Uribe, owner of El Burro Restaurant in the PruneYard, makes one of his daily lists of supplies for his thriving business. This week and next, Uribe will be absent a few hours from El Burro, as he accepts recognition from local chambers of commerce for having been chosen small retail business man of the year in four western states.



RESTFUL PATIO---Mario Uribe knew what he was doing when he made a patio part of his El Burro Restaurant at the PruneYard. The "old Mexico" look is a tempting stopping spot for weary shoppers.

A unique Campbell businessman has been selected as the "small retail businessman of the year" in four western states by the Small Business Administration.

However, that honor, which includes recognition throughout the Bay Area, does not seem to have upset the recipient.

Mario Uribe, owner of El Burro Restaurant, located in the PruneYard, is pleased by all the attention he is getting, but so far, he hasn't lost any of his native charm.

A native of Mexico City, Uribe and his mother came to the country in 1946 and opened a restaurant in San Francisco in 1948. Since then, he's pretty much been in the same line of work--unless you count the short time that he fixed washing machines!

Mostly though, it's food-related things which have kept him going. Even though some seem to belie his Mexican heritage--a coffee shop, an Italian pizza parlor, a Chinese restaurant and the biggest--a smorgasbord on San Jose's eastside.

"My life is in the kitchen," he says with a twinkle of his warm brown eyes--"there's therapy there."

Hopefully, Mario won't do as much at El Burro as he did when he had El Gordo's in Los Gatos--where he worked so hard he made himself ill.

Uribe opened El Burro in September of 1971--so 1972 was really his first full year. And El Burro is growing rapidly--so rapidly that a second floor cocktail lounge and meeting room is planned.

The 400 seat restaurant has a lot of unique characteristics. There's an outside patio complete with umbrellas and hanging pots, while the tile floored (spotlessly clean) interior includes pinatas, bullfight paintings, wrought iron chandeliers, clean white tablecloths and soft stretched leather chairs with rounded backs.

Six days a week strolling guitarists entertain customers, singing birthday and anniversary congratulations and generally entertain, while waitresses in traditional costumes serve.

Urbie doesn't like "the army look" in his help, but he does ask the waitresses to wear Mexican garb. Some 24 of them work on weekends while another 14 do kitchen duty and 14 serve as bus boys.

He does insist on quick and efficent service and tells his girls to remove dirty dishes quickly. "I never want to rush people," he says, "but I don't want them sitting with a pile of dirty dishes on the table."

Two of Uribe's three children help him. The third is still attending high school, but works occasionally on the weekends.

His help obviously likes his warm smile and his own personal willingness to work--because they recently took him out to dinner on his birthday--to a nearby restaurant, of course, where they had steak!

During this week, Uribe will be recognized by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and next week by a combined chamber meeting hosted by San Jose, Sunnyvale and Campbell at the Hyatt House.

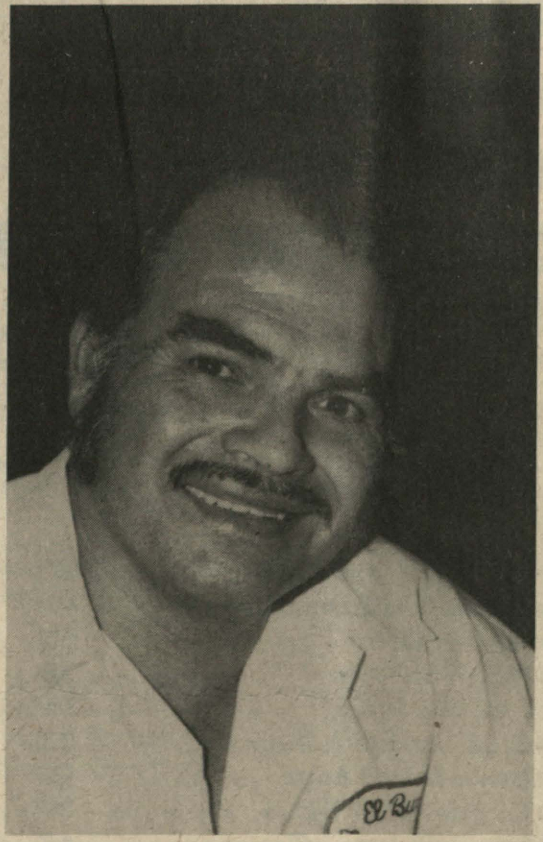
INTERIOR TOUCHES --- Pinatas, wooden beams, and gleaming white tablecloths look inviting in the El Burro Restaurant in the PruneYard. Owner Mario Uribe's success has caused him to be named small businessman of the year in four western states by the Small Business Administration.

Congratulations, Mario

El Burro

It is a rare privilege to have someone in Santa Clara County named as either Small Businessman of the Year or Outstanding Subcontractor of the Year by the Small Business Administration...but to have them both from our area is an exciting and almost unheard of honor!

But that is the case this year with the naming of Mario Uribe of El Burro Restaurant and Harold Harrison of Aertech Industries as SBA award winners for the entire Western United States.



MARIO URIBE

The PruneYard Management wishes to congratulate Mario and staff on the success of El Burro. We are proud to have El Burro as part of the PruneYard family.

Joseph George Distributor

We are very proud of you, Mario.
You are a fine asset to our community.

It's nice to know that my column is being read. Had a call from Phyllis Hofer saying that the Young People's Operetta Group was still in existence for teen-agers. Thanks for the reminder...

"Follies" has definitely been named as the summer musical for Music Theater. Auditions will be May 26 and 27 in the new rehearsal hall on Norte Dame. For more information, call 286-6841...

Attended the opening night performance of Campbell High's "Brigadoon" on Thursday last. Good performances from Tom Gabbard, who needed a hair cut, Joan Evans, and especially outstanding was Lorrie Bryant as Fiona. She is a pretty girl with a pretty voice...

This is the year for "Our Town." San Jose State is presenting it this weekend and the Community Players will do it in July.

Ed Moats was the winner of the gypsy robe for the outstanding member of the ensemble for "Hello Dolly!" He was presented it by Doreen Pritts who won it for "Man of La Mancha." The gypsy robe is a symbol of good luck and goes from show to show. Each winner then puts a memento on it from his or her show. Former winners include Steve Schneikert, Barbara Hill, Megan Phillips, Heidi Parsons, Doug Bedard, Andrea Hitch, Tom Love (twice), and first winner Linda Spink. The robe originally belonged to "Miss Local Theater" Lila Lloyd...

Saw "You Can't Take It With You" on Friday night. Enjoyed the classic comedy especially Lea Woods, Betty Tracy Huff, Rita Smith, and Jeff Risk...Centerplayers of Old Town had a large turnout for their summer shows. They are very ambitious to try eight shows in one summer. Good luck...

Short Takes...Peter David Heth will essay the leading role in Phoenix' "Forum". He did a nice job in Music Theater's "Dolly" as Horace Vandergelder...Saratoga's "Fiddler" needs a choreographer. If interested, call Mrs. Don Loughridge, the producer, at 867-0281...

"Bye, Bye, Birdie" directed by John Healy opens this weekend at the Montgomery Theater. Friday and Saturday with matinees on Saturday and Sunday...

When a Campbell man spotted his wife out with another man last week he took out his anger....on the other man's car.

According to reports, shortly after seeing his wife leave a local nightspot with the man, he took off in pursuit and proceeded to run into the other man's car with his pick-up truck. At each stop sign he gave the car another hard jolt.

The man finally quit when he had smashed in the car's radiator and left it and its occupants stranded on a Campbell street.

Mandatory P.E. extended at West Valley College

Mandatory physical education will be required at West Valley College for one additional year, following action by the governing board Thursday evening.

The board approved the administration's recommendation that physical education be required for one additional year of all students between the ages of 18-21, who carry nine or more units. Only students over 21, carrying eight or fewer units, with a medical excuse or who have completed four successful semesters of physical education in college will be excused.

Physical education has been mandatory in the past but a recent ruling by Attorney General Evelle J. Younger stated that the Priolo Act now exempts students from mandatory physical education and that physical education requirements are now a local board option.

Supt. James P. Hardy's recommendation, as adopted by the board, asked that physical education be mandated for an interim period of one year and that no change be made until a report could be rendered by the newly formed physical education committee. The committee's report is expected by the first board meeting in December.

A number of students spoke against the recommendation at the meeting. Paula Barnes and Raquel Armijo both said they felt the board should not discriminate against students 18-21 years of age. Miss Barnes said "if it's good for everyone why not require it of everyone. You should require all students, the administration and the faculty to participate in 120 minutes a week of physical education".

The board's vote was 5-2. Final decision on mandatory physical education should come in December when the board receives the report from the physical education study committee.

United Trade Club holds buffet here

The growth of the United Trade Club of Santa Clara County will be outlined at a secondary anniversary buffet dinner meeting of the business group at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 16, at Briner Hall, 272 E. Campbell Avenue.

George Maddux of Campbell, co-director of the organization whose members buy goods and services without use of cash, will tell club affiliates that the group has increased its membership to more than 250 business firms since its first anniversary last April.

Comprised of mostly small and medium sized businesses, members are from Campbell. Los Gatos, Sunnyvale, Cupertino, Los Altos, Mt. View, Palo Alto, Santa Clara, Milpitas and Gilroy.

A trade club member in need of automobile repairs buys labor and materials from a fellow club member with no cash transacted. With the credit the auto repair company has built up, its owner may purchase auto parts for his firm, jewelry, flying lessons, etc., from another member, also without cash.

Area businesses interested in joining the United Trade Club are asked to call the club office, 374-0362.

IRATE CUSTOMER KICKS WAITRESS

A suspect is being sought in connection with a disturbance at a local restaurant Saturday in which a waitress and cook were beaten by the assailant.

According to police reports, the man entered the restaurant early Saturday and began to be abusive when he wasn't served immediately. When he continued his action, reports said, he was asked to leave.

The 19-year-old waitress was struck and kicked by the suspect as she tried to phone police. The cook, who came to her assistance, was also struck by the man. The man escaped before police arrived.

According to reports, the restaurant was crowded at the time of the attack.

Two men, the young waitress told police, stood nearby and watched during the attack and then left before she could get free to contact the police.

JOCK TALK

Spring wrap up -
Track = No. 1
Baseball = 8th place
Swimming = 6th place

The running Warriors of Speed City are number one, beating out Branham thanks to Rich "Mac" McCandless, John Lagrande, Dave Gillespie, and Tim Smith.

Our intrepid trackmen also beat out 28 other schools, and captured the first place trophy at the Santa Cruz Relays.

Westmont's batmen are eighth in the league, being unable to cope with the powerful batting of the rest of the league.

Warrior aquamen placed 13 swimmers and divers in league finals last weekend, and five divers qualified for regionals with six swimmers going to C.C.S. Finals.

Bill Gerould, Jim Boekel and John Christenson placed first, second and third, respectively, in diving.

Paul: Ohmygod! What am I going to do? I'm going to miss school--going to first period every morning--

Ms.: You don't anyway. (Eh, Brian?)

Paul: But I'm there in spirit.

4H CLUB

by Michelle Lauer

Our April meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. at Immanuel Lutheran Church on April 11. Susan Snouse and Lorraine Carlson led us in a game. Randy Cone told us what we needed for our goals this year. Louis Zurlo told us what he did at the High 4-H meeting.

After that we had some project reports:

Then we had some project reports:

Louis Zurlo told us about electing new officers; Michelle Lauer gave a report on the Mother-Daughter Tea; Tanya Jefferson told about the clean-up-committee; Mary Ann Lahan told about the project tour, and Rickey Zurlo gave out trophies from the bowling party.

Then there were some demonstrations:

Bill Lauer, Brad Korinke, and Kevin Garcia on rabbit food and care; Mark Lauer on woodworking; Susan Rice on Entomology; Michelle Lauer on guide dogs, and Glenn Green on rabbit showmanship.

The winners of the baking contest were:

Girls: Ann Regan, Mary Ann Lahan and Susan Rice. Boys: Rich Regan.

On April 29 the El Sereno 4-H had their Project Tour. A Project Tour is when all the families go around to different homes and observe all the projects that are in the 4-H club. There were three houses used this year and almost all of the projects were fit in. I think it turned out pretty good.

On April 29 we had our Mother-Daughter Tea. That is when all the mothers and girls get together and talk. First we had a game. Then Tanya Jefferson modeled the dress she made in clothing. Then all the girls who could play instruments played for the mothers. (Susan Rice, Michelle Lauer, and Adele Carlson played the clarinet; Susan Snouse and Lorraine Carlson played the french horn Janet Snouse played the bassoon; and Clare Carlson directed.) Then we had tea and cookies and went swimming.
